FIM ISDE SARDEGNA 2013

Sardinia and Olbia have the pleasure and the honor to host the next edition of the 2013 International Six Days Enduro ISDE, which will take place in the beautiful scenery of the land of Gallura. Here the winding dirt paths, described by the ancient mule tracks up the hills inland of the Costa Smeralda, will become challenging courses for the enduro champions and will be the frame of a celebration of Six Days Enduro Isde 2013, one of the most challenging occasions for motorcycle teams from all around the world.

SARDINIA

Sardinia, an island in the heart of the western Mediterranean Sea, is known worldwide for its crystal clear waters and the particular natural landscape.

The region has maintained its original characteristics making it a real natural and cultural heritage: thanks to mild climate, a sea of colors, shifting to the mountains with flora and fauna enriched by peculiar species of the region, Sardinia is a unique setting for the 2013 International Six Days Enduro ISDE.

OLBIA

Olbia, the happy city, as it was called by the Greeks, the provincial capital along with Tempio, is famous for its proximity to the Costa Smeralda and presents itself as a modern city full of life.

Full of renowned tourist locations, among which Porto Cervo, Porto Rotondo and Portisco, Olbia has many facilities and cultural attractions that make it one of the most important cities of Sardinia.

All these tourist attractions are very easy to reach from the airport.

Olbia City is located in one of the most astonishing areas of Sardinia, also known as Costa Smeralda [Emerald Coast], with wonderful coastline and beaches easy to access even for those who have limited budget for holidays. The area offers many chances to practice sports and various activities.

MARINE PROTECTED AREAS

Asinara
The Asinara Island is one of the most spectacular little islands close to Sardinia. It has a long history as a penal colony, it has been a national park since 1997. On its eastern side there are a lot of beaches and bays, like those of red granite, the Scombro and Sant'Andrea bays.

Capo Caccia
The area of Punta di Giglio and Capo Caccia is an underwater cave paradise. The Grotta di Nettuno is rich of stalactites and stalagmites. The Nereo underwater cave is famous for its red coral which is visible at just 5 to 6 metres beneath sea level.

Capo Carbonara
Emerald waters and metaphysical landscape: these are the main characteristics of the protected marine area that runs from the extreme promontory point in the south-east of Sardinia and which takes its name from the Capo Carbonara promontory.

Tavolara - Capo Coda Cavallo
The marine area in the north east of Sardinia goes from Capo Ceraso to Capo Coda Cavallo. Species of rare beauty can be found here such as Erodium coricum, a variety of geranium, and Asperula deficiens, which only grows on this island.

Sinis Peninsula
This marine area comprises the Sinis Peninsula, the Island of Mal di Ventre and the Catalan cliff. It is a spectacular natural oasis, above all for the abundance of eroded rocks and stones modelled by the passing of waves, as S’Archittu, a spectacular rocky archway.
